

Public Contracting and Procurement in Oregon

Springfield, OR • March 19, 2010 • ID# 383706

Discover how to navigate the minefields of public contracting and procurement code with ease.

Do you want to know how to minimize the looming pitfalls inherent in public contracting? Now you can – attend this seminar and enhance your knowledge of the complex and always changing system of laws and regulations involved in public contracting and procurement. You'll find out not only how to effectively coordinate the procurement process for public services, but also how to make strategic decisions concerning bid protests and contractual disputes.

Our experts will show you how public works projects are awarded and what you should do if you encounter a problem along the way. Presented from both legal and practical perspectives, this seminar will give you the tools you need to face the changing landscape in this often daunting field.

Benefits for You

- Master the bidding and contractor selection process – know what to do and what not to do
- Take the guesswork out of bid protest procedure
- Stay current on recent legal developments affecting government contracting
- Get a firm grasp of both state and local procurement regulations

Learning Objectives

- You will be able to discuss goods and services contracting.
- You will be able to review claims and payment bonds.
- You will be able to explain the New Model rules.
- You will be able to recognize ethical issues.
